"I have believed and taught always that what God demands from man is his utmost effort to CO-OPERATE and UNDERSTAND. I have taught the imagination first and most. I have made knowledge, knowledge of what man is, and what man's world is, and what man may be, which is the adventure of mankind, the substance of all my teaching."

. "I suppose that one could define Education as the lifting of minds out of blind alleys."—H. G. WELLS.

The above suggests on broad lines something of the underlying principles on which we hope to base our work.

BANFF, the rapidly developing centre of the Rocky Mountain Park of Canada, on the main line of the C.P.R., has been specially chosen for the situation of the Mountain School.

Its great advantages are: Its accessibility from east and west, the health giving character of its comparatively temperate climate, and its magnificent scenery, so stimulating to the imagination, and so generally beneficial to the minds and bodies of the young.

It has also peculiar educational facilities in its museum and zoological gardens, its parks of representative Canadian wild animals, its warm open-air swimming baths and its hot medicinal springs.

SPECIAL FEATURES OF THE MOUNTAIN SCHOOL

1. SUMMER AND WINTER SPORTS, for which every facility will be afforded. Tennis, cricket, hockey, riding, skating, ski-ing, tobogganing, mountain climbing, will form a popular, and we believe very helpful part of the school life.

SUBJECT: THE MOUNTAIN SCHOOL, BANFF

The Mountain School was a private school for girls run by a very interesting couple, Mr. and Mrs. H.W. Greenham. They carried on through the late 20's and 30's successfully.

During the second world war at the request of Mrs. Greenham's sister, who was a missionary in India, and who, by the way, composed the famous poem that King George VI quoted in one of his Christmas messages, to take the children of a number of civil servants in India who could not keep them with them and could not return them to England during the war. These children remained at the Mountain School until the war was over. Shortly after that the Greenhams retired. That was the end of this most unusual school.

The attached brochure came into our possession in the mid-thirties when our daughters became pupils.

I believe it is worth preserving.
